

What's New For Barbecue Season

Nothing says spring and summer fun like cooking outside. When we start talking about two popular pastimes (ok, obsessions): grilling and tailgating, we see just how important barbecue season is. Just look at these incredible numbers:

75% of adults own a grill or a smoker (Hearth, Patio & Barbecue Association Poll).

$20 billion is spent annually on tailgating food and supplies (National Tailgating Association).

Whether you're camping, tailgating, or simply hanging out in your own backyard, here are some great new products that will help you usher in the warmer weather
